

Adam Danczyk Bio:

Adam is a Senior ITS Engineer with over ten years of experience in developing and deploying TSM&O strategies for arterial and freeway networks, including smart corridors, advanced traffic signal control, ramp metering, managed lanes, and active traffic management. As part of a greater Jacobs ITS practice, Adam is regularly involved with the national program managers for advanced ITS applications, and serves as a knowledge base for innovative practices within the Jacobs Chicago office.